Today, as we followed the street protest organized by the members of the organization lead by Gregorian Bivolaru, we could see a few things: first of all we were impressed by their paramilitary-like manner of organizing, namely similar to the 'move and you're dead' or 'no one makes a move until I say so' attitude. Whenever one of the common demonstrators tried to get in touch with one of the people on the side walk, he wa simmediately prevented to do so, probably by some high official of M.I.S.A.
